

ŽIVKOVIĆ|SAMARDŽIĆ

WORKSHOP

THE NEW DATA PROTECTION LAW

Dear BSBA members and friends,

It is with great pleasure that we invite you to attend the workshop

Waiting for the new Data Protection Law: What employers should expect after August 21?

which will take place on Tuesday, April 16th, 2019, at the Residence of the Embassy of Belgium, Krunska 16, Belgrade, starting at 2:00 PM.

Guest speakers

Ana Popović, Partner and Head of the Employment Department and Miloš Stojković, Senior Associate and Head of the Digital Department at Živković Samardžić Law Office

Agenda

2:00 – 4:00 p.m.

Presentation

Basic Information on GDPR: Application and principles, legal basis and purpose of data processing, consent, data processing for contract execution and for protection of the legitimate interests of the processor, risk assessment, security measures and disclosure of security incidents

Personal Data Protection Law: Basic Information, application, what has changed compared to the previous Law

GDPR and Personal Data Protection Law in the Employment Context: Relation between the Personal Data Protection Law and the Labour Law and the laws governing the employment record, data processing records, examples of personal data processing situations: video surveillance, law enforcement personal data processing, other types of processing (promotional purposes, statistics etc.), protection measures (need to know, authorization, password policy, physical and IT protection measures), international personal data transfer (Binding Corporate Rules, Standard Contractual Clauses, the adequacy of the protection), processors, data Processing Agreement, Data Protection Officer and Representative

Q & A Discussion

The working language of the workshop will be English, followed up with a Q&A and discussion part, in both English and Serbian.

Seats are limited, so please RSVP at your earliest convenience, but no later than Friday, April 12th, 2019 to m.vranjanac@bsbiz.eu.